Discuss Railway Rate Legislation

Attorney-Generals of Seven Western States Meet in St. Louis Tomorrow to Take Up Weighty Problem—Missouri Cases Pending in Supreme Court

(Special to The Capital)
St. Louis, Aug. 3.—A conference of weighty importance to the travelling public and the big railroads will begin here tomorrow when the Attorney-Generals of seven states meet to discuss railroad-rate legislation. The states to be represented in the conference—Arkansas, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa—are all busy with railroad litigation.

Attorney-General Elliott W. Major of Missouri, who called the meeting at the request of Attorney-General West of Oklahoma, declared today that he expected results from the conference that would be far-reaching. He said an effort would be made to come to a common agreement as to the best way to handle the problem. Missouri cases are pending for decision in the United States Supreme Court and nothing further can be done with them, but Attorney-General Major says, the consultation may be beneficial to the other states.

ARBITRATION PACT LEADING TO WORLD PEACE IS SIGNED

Representatives of Great Britain, France and United States Sign Agreement to Submit All Differences to Arbitration Commission—Means Abolishment of War

(Western Associated Press)
Washington, August 3.—The world's greatest nations with the United States as the central figure and moving spirit, join hands today in opening the way to the coveted goal of the statesmen of modern times, universal peace. Before the day closes Great Britain and America and France will have signed a general arbitration treaty for the peaceful settlement of disputes that may be located in the future. Jean Jurensen, French ambassador to the United States, now in Paris, the first diplomat to accept Taft's suggestion that all quarrels between nations be arbitrated, signed the treaty in that city at 2 o'clock this afternoon, or 9 a.m. Washington time. Six hours later at the White House, Secretary of State Knox signed both the British and the French treaty and James Bryce, British ambassador, signed the agreement with Great Britain. President Taft witnessed the signing ceremonies.

The general features of treaties are: differences between nations shall be submitted to the League of Nations; special arbitration, some other tribunal or court; the difference is susceptible, is created or selected. Differences that require country friends are not justifiable shall be referred to a commission of inquiry composed of representatives of two governments empowered to make recommendations for settlement. Should negotiations decide that dispute should be arbitrated such decisions will be binding.

Baron Ichida, the Japanese ambassador, will entertain his famous countryman at dinner Sunday evening and on the two evenings following similar functions will be given by Secretary of State Knox and Secretary of the Navy Meyer. The admiral will visit the Washington navy yard and will probably go to Annapolis to inspect the naval academy. A trip to Mt. Vernon is another feature of the programme.

G.T.P. COMPLETING ITS FINAL SURVEY

OF PROPOSED LINE INTO PEACE RIVER COUNTRY—SURVEYORS NOW IN FIELD

The final survey of the Grand Trunk Pacific north from Edson into the Peace River country is being completed rapidly by L. E. Silcox, who with a party of assistants has been working southward toward the town. The information has been obtained from local authorities that when he reaches Edson the final survey will be completed. He should be by the end of the present month.

Some difficulty has been experienced in getting a satisfactory grade over the ridges between the Athabasca and the Peace rivers. The preliminary surveys were run and the final has been located around the eastern end of the river where it has been possible to secure a four tenths grade, which is the same as the grade on the main line. Following this survey the line will run north east from Edson until it passes the ridge between the McLeod and the Athabasca, after which it will swing into the valley of the latter stream and run north westward to a suitable place for crossing. It is understood that Mr. Wilcox has completed up the survey from Edson through the old survey made in 1907 through the Pine Pass.

EDITORS FROM BUCKEYE STATE ARE ENJOYING CANADIAN TOUR

Delegation of Newspapermen, 150 Strong, Arrive in City on Special Train and Are Spending Day Visiting Points of Interest in City—Trip Down River on "City of Edmonton" This Afternoon—Visitors Surprised at Prosperity of City

Accorded to the city by a delegation of Board of Trade members who journeyed to Vancouver to meet them, the editors, who were accompanied from Winnipeg by H. J. Lambkin, travelling passenger agent for the G.T.P., arrived in the city at 7:15 o'clock, last evening. As the special train of coaches came to a standstill in front of the station the visitors thronged the platform and began to look about them and observe the things that newspaper people only can see. They saw things about the G.N.R. station that it is safe to say, no other of the readers of the editors who have visited the great scores of times, never could have seen. One of the visitors in the party immediately remarked that the date of the erection of the station building which is to be seen above the platform in a label in the brick wall was set in stone, over a sheet of water, emblematic of the product of the city.

In the party there are representatives of 17 daily, semi-weekly and weekly newspapers. The editors are accompanying them in a tour of the city and the total number aboard the special train which left Winnipeg on Wednesday night, exclusive of the Edmonton men who met it at Vancouver, was 201. There are no more than 100 in the party. All the publications represented are straight newspapers, the total circulation of which in all parts of the country is over 1,000,000. The editors are not yet yet been flattered by the city. The editors are not yet yet been flattered by the city. The editors are not yet yet been flattered by the city.

PLAN IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE

PEACE RIVER CROSSING AND GRANDE PRAIRIE TO RECEIVE MAIL WEEKLY SOON

Arrangements are being made by the post office inspector's department at Edmonton for the inauguration of a weekly mail service to Peace River Crossing by way of Edson on the G.T.P. and Grande Prairie city, at the rate of the government mail recently completed into the Grande Prairie country. Six weeks are being allowed, according to the specification of the road by prospective mail carriers and the submission of letters to the department. This service will be inaugurated a few weeks later.

At present Peace River Crossing is served by a mail which is taken in by way of Athabasca Landing. It is very uncertain, arriving at its northern destination quite irregularly. With the new service by way of Edson it will be possible to reach Peace River Crossing in two weeks as the mail to Grande Prairie.

Grande Prairie Road Is In Fair Condition

Settlers are now making successful trips into the Grande Prairie with wagons loaded with effects over the government road north from Edson, according to J. B. Taft, manager of the Edson-Grande Prairie stage line, who arrived in the city last night from the west.

"Although heavy rains have kept it in a bad condition throughout the summer, the entire length of the road is now passable with lightly loaded wagons," said Mr. Taft to the Capital this morning. "A number of settlers coming in are taking loads of more than a ton on their wagons. These are too heavy for the road, but the fact that I am afraid some difficulty will be experienced in getting over the low places in the road. The trail is all right for a man with a small load. It is possible to take a wagon right through in Grande Prairie."

Mr. Taft made a trip through the Grande Prairie city with the first weekly mail which left Edson on July 11. He arrived at Grande Prairie city several days later and on his return to Edson.

MANY HIGH CLASS GARDENS IN CITY

Horticultural Society Had Difficult Task in Selecting Prize Winners—Fifty Entries to Pick From—Prizes to Be Presented at Close of Exhibition

That Edmontonians are taking an increased interest in horticulture and the cultivation of their gardens is manifested by the marked improvement in the quality of the gardens entered this year in the horticultural exhibition. The horticultural society had the most difficult task in the selection of prize winners in the vegetable garden, and the increase in the number of entries for the competition, the result of which were made known this morning. Numerically the entries are double those of last year, while the condition of the gardens was judged last month, shows an infinite advancement upon former years. In all there were fifty entries in the prize list.

The prize list is the best that has yet been prepared, the gold and silver medals given by the Horticultural society as first and second prizes in each of the competitions being supplemented by various special prizes contributed by citizens interested in the improvement of garden stock and of the general horticultural beauty of the city. In the professional competition, in Amateur Competition.

In the amateur competition special prizes were offered by Geo. P. Piller, nurseryman, for the best lawn east and west of First street. These took the form of twelve new bushes for first and six for second prizes, and (Continued on Page Five.)

REMOVED THAT ROOSEVELT WILL BE A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT NEXT YEAR

Considerable Uneasiness in Taft Camp—Latter Wants Second Term as Country's Approval of His Administration—Teddy's Followers Refuse to Divulge Plans

(International News Service) Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Passing events cast their shadows before the shadow of Theodore Roosevelt. The shadow of Theodore Roosevelt still hangs over the administration of President Taft. Just what it portends no one in the political camp in Washington at present will venture to suggest, but it is strongly intimated that there is yet a possibility that Roosevelt, the idol of the west, the savior of the east, the acceptable in the south, may be carried into the white house for another term, notwithstanding his retirement at Oyster Bay. Politicians have never discounted the strong following that Roosevelt developed in the country at his last election as president. The white house is in the same boat. It doesn't hesitate for a moment to believe that Roosevelt would be a strong man in any fight whether for the presidency or any other public office.

Consequently in the Taft camp there is a feeling of apprehension over the plans of Roosevelt, and over the plans of the Roosevelt followers, and Mr. Taft is out for the presidency and wants again to come to the White House, thereby receiving the approval of the people of the country for his administration. He realizes that, should Roosevelt come out as a second term candidate for the presidency, it should end in defeat for the republicans, and for himself, for it is generally claimed the republicans have of winning in the presidential year. So the president and his friends are anxious that should Roosevelt run against Mr. Taft or over oppose him for the re-nomination, it would split the republican party into two factions and mean defeat. If Roosevelt runs on an independent ticket, such as the Progressive league proposed, upon a nationalist or new party ticket, the hopes of republican success will be frustrated.

Would Defeat Democrats
With Roosevelt's help backing Mr. Taft, it is believed by politicians here that the democrats might be defeated in the 1912 campaign.
Democratic leaders point with scorn to the administration of President Taft, calling attention to the various investigations which congressional committees are now performing, one of which they claim have unearthed great scandals. Then, too, the record of the democrats in congress, is pointed to with pride, a record, they say, that voters all over the country will have to approve. They do not expect material help from Wall Street, but count on the great popular vote of the country to bring them into power and place in the White House the man of their choice.

Just what the power of Theodore Roosevelt will be in the generally mixed up political condition in the United States is hard to forecast. The thing that makes the Roosevelt supporters a power that will have to be reckoned with in the next Republican convention is the presidential preference law. This will be tried in five states, Oregon, Nebraska, North Dakota, Wisconsin and New Jersey.

Roosevelt the Strongest
Any notion that the Roosevelt sentiment has died out among the veterans is erroneous. Politicians here realize this, and when the presidential primaries are held, the man who might "loom up strongest of all in these states is not Taft or La Follette, but Roosevelt."

If this proves to be the case, the convention may find itself in a position to train a powerful effort to put the

NEBRASKA IN DOUBT

Nebraska is one of the states where the outcome of the presidential primary will be watched with interest by politicians all over the country. President Taft's friends have asserted him that he will get the vote of the state. On the other hand, the candidacy of Senator La Follette will be strongly urged there. At the same time it is well known here that Roosevelt sentiment is expected to show itself without any particular effort at organization. At all of the important delegates will so split up the states delegation that it will not be able to present a solid vote. Whether La Follette or Roosevelt will be elected, it is impossible to assume that it will be for some one who stands for the principles of the league, which is headed by Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, to father the progressive spirit.

COMPLEX SITUATION

Various phases of the complex situation in Nebraska, the first, that democratic success at the next election seems to be assured. Taft, while a strong candidate, popular to a certain extent with the masses, extremely popular with Wall Street and other big interests, finds himself in a difficult position. Roosevelt is not without his supporters, but he is not as strong as Taft. The result would be a split in the republican party. The second phase of the situation is the fact that the republican party is not as strong as it was in the past. The third phase is the fact that the republican party is not as strong as it was in the past.

Gabriel Roosevelt, it was said some time ago, would support President Taft for re-nomination and re-election. This was promptly denied by Mr. Roosevelt. Since then he has attacked the policy of the administration in respect to the Controller Bay scandal. Under the circumstances the anti-Taft sentiment in Washington are convinced that Roosevelt is not friendly to the republicans. The fact that Taft is not doing anything to help it.

Friends of Mr. Roosevelt say that the cabinet is not for the president this time, but that he has cautious eyes on it for 1912. Should he, however, change his mind, and support the next election, his friends predict that Roosevelt would sweep the country as he did in the 1904 campaign, notwithstanding the "excellent" record that the democrats have been making and the present defensive attitude of the Taft administration.

IRISH UNIONIST CLUBS ARE MOST DEMOCRATIC

IF HOME RULE PARLIAMENT IS SET UP IN DUBLIN
LOYALISTS WILL REFUSE TO PAY TAXES—
CLUBS STEADILY ENROLLING MEMBERS.

(Globe Cable Service)

Dublin, Aug. 3.—"The Ulster council recently issued a manifesto in which they stated that in a Home Rule parliament were set up in Dublin the Loyalists would refuse to pay taxes and where the Loyalists are in the majority they are prepared to support this policy in every way possible. The clubs, I may say, are steadily enrolling men of all denominations, among others loyal Roman Catholics. Some 98 per cent, or more of the club members are artisans, small farmers, laborers, and such like. In fact, I may say that the Unionist clubs of Ireland, both as to their methods of organization and government, are the most democratic institution in the world. Yet it is such a body of men as this that his majesty's government think can be handed over to the rule of an alien parliament in Dublin."

Lord Morley, when speaking in the house of lords recently on Lord Lansdowne's amendment stated that improved government in Ireland was absolutely essential, and again that he agreed with the "mild marquis," Lord Lansdowne, in desiring a pacific agreement.

Had I spoken on the amendment I should like to have asked the noble Viscount whether he thought that the government in Ireland controlled by Mr. Redmond was likely to be superior to a government in Ireland, controlled

By Mr. Asquith, or shall I say by Mr. Redmond in the English parliament. I fear, however, that argument would be absolutely wasted on any member of the government at present, and for that reason I agree with Lord Morley that the only thing to do is to go to bed and to organize a protest. I have every reason for believing with the noble lord that the arguments used in the future against Home Rule and a Dublin parliament will be very strong, but that resolutions or amendments will be in vain.

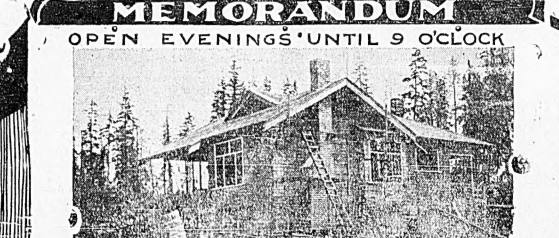

The genuine co-operation of the 722 Orange body with the clubs will be for the attempt to force Home Rule on the loyal minority perfectly useless. I only hope it may not be too late to prevent the terrible results which will come if the present policy is followed to force Home Rule upon the loyal minority in Ireland, whose last word on the subject is "No surrender."

THE STANDARD WATER OF CANADA

When, in 1807, a beaver hunter discovered the "Great Medicine" of the Indians and trailed down the beaten track to the source of their healing waters, he little foresaw that in the course of a hundred years, Caledonia Springs were to become known throughout the continent of North America and that under the name of

MAGI

would invade all parts of the continent and become the standard Canadian water.

Not only is MAGI the purest of pure spring waters, but it possesses marked medicinal properties as well. As it flows through its long subterranean course — no man knows whence nor how far — it gathers from Nature's store, natural salts and other minerals which make it an unexcelled specific for disorders of the stomach and kidneys — for rheumatism, gout, etc.

MAGI assists exudation and helps carry off disease-creating body wastes.

Yet, MAGI is not, in any sense, a medicine. Not only does it do you good, but MAGI is good to drink. For the table, its crystal purity and wonderful "fresh" taste, makes MAGI just the simplest and most delicious beverage you can imagine.

Inventor of Elevator Had Checkered Career

First Demonstration of Invention Given by Elisha G. Otis at Exposition in New York City in 1853—Established First Factory in Fall of 1861

Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.—One hundred years ago today there was born in the little town of Hallowell, Me., a man whose inventive genius led the way for the erection of the skyscraping buildings that now distinguish every American city, and incidentally added millions of dollars to the value of real estate.

The man was Elisha G. Otis. His invention was the elevator, undoubtedly one of the most important and useful inventions of the nineteenth century. Without the facilities offered by the elevator for reaching any desired height the tall buildings of today, it is hardly necessary to state, would be wholly impractical.

Otis began life as a farmer, but his inventive genius led him to turn his attention to mechanical pursuits. After engaging in various lines of manufacturing in Albany, Troy and one or two other places he finally located in Yonkers, where he was given charge of the erection of some buildings for a manufacturing company.

In erecting the buildings it became necessary to construct an elevator for use on the premises, and in connection with this Mr. Otis devised a plan to prevent the fall of the platform in case of the breaking of the hoisting cables. It was this safety device that brought the elevator into practical use. Mr. Otis first demonstrated the safety and utility of his invention at the exhibition at the international exposition held in New York city in 1853. Within a few years thereafter the elevator system was introduced into public buildings. The old Fifth Avenue hotel, which was torn down only a few years ago, was the first to install an elevator and for a long time it was an object of much curiosity to all visitors to the metropolis.

Mr. Otis lived to see his invention come into general use not only in America but throughout a large part of the world. He established a factory for the construction of his elevators in Yonkers, where he resided until his death in 1861. While his name will always be inseparably linked with his invention of the elevator he was fertile in other lines of invention and improvement, among his products being a machine for making blind staples, an automatic wood-turning machine, a steam plow, and a rotary oven for use in the making of bread.

The mounted police are on the look out for one Michael "King" of a band of gypsies that has been roving around the province during the past two years. Mitchell is said to have assaulted a negro who lives on a farm several miles west of Leduc. The gypsy and his followers own several farms in the district and Ross is one of the tenants. The assaulted man who is well known in years is said to have been seriously injured and fears are entertained as to his recovery. No difficulty is anticipated by the police in capturing Mitchell as they are well informed regarding his whereabouts.

WANT WATER TROUGH.

Energies of the humane society of this city are being directed at the city commissioners today in an effort to get a water trough for horses, cattle and dogs located on Jasper avenue, west. Those residing in the western part of the city have no convenient place to water their horses. The society has a communication before the commissioners this morning agreeing to provide the fountain if the city would look after the installation and provide the water. The communication was favorably considered and steps will be taken to install the fountain. It was suggested that it be located somewhere about Fifteenth street.
